We renovate gardens professionally – with a designer's eye.

When a garden is overgrown and looks neglected, it's not easy to decide where and how to start a renovation project. Over time, gardens mature and their maintenance requirements change. A garden that has reached full maturity may begin to require a high level of maintenance to prevent it from interfering with other elements on the property, such as pathways and scenic views. In some cases, the major elements of a landscape are in place and in good condition, but the plants simply need to be altered and updated. Our Garden Renovation services offer the perfect solution for giving your landscape a makeover, without the expense of a total re-construction.

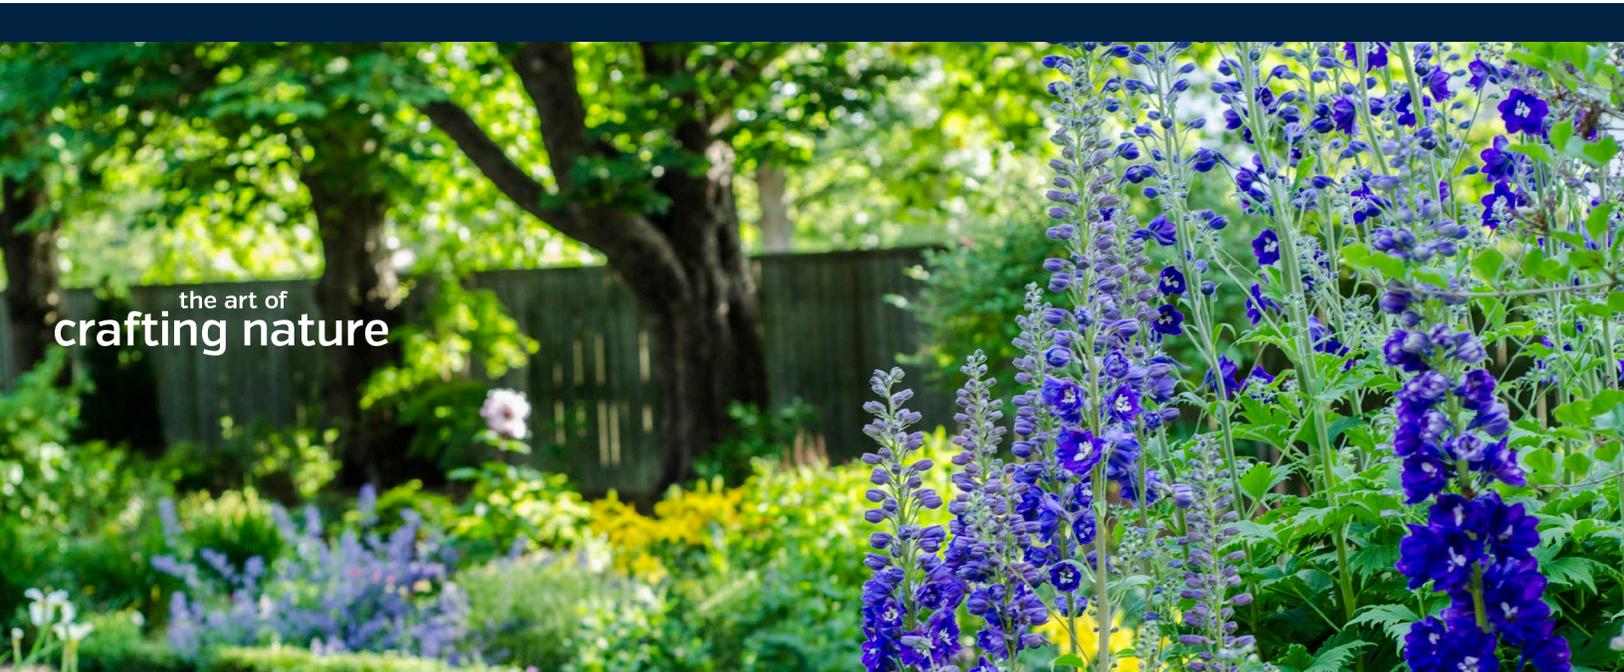

We will meet with you and discuss your landscape and the potential for a renovation. We will take stock of the current plant material and major elements in your landscape. In some cases, we are able to preserve large, mature plants and combine them with new ones to create a beautiful garden that has a unique appeal and interest. Through a combination of pruning, plant relocation and removal, perennial divisions and new plantings, we can utilize all the best elements in your garden but think of the future design, use and growth of the landscape. At the same time, we will amend the soil to ensure that your new gardens will be beautiful and lush. During a renovation, we are able to modify the outline of garden beds and even add or remove beds entirely. Depending on the nature and size of a project, it may be reasonable to attack an overgrown garden with a step by step process.

Whether you have existing garden beds that need a fresh look, or a landscape that is very minimal, call us today to find out what we can create for you!
